

1. The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.
2. Indiana's Telephone Privacy law has improved our time at home by significantly reducing nuisance calls, especially at dinner time. We used to receive up to 15 calls per day, now we seldom receive any.
3. Companies have no right to call unsolicited. We consider unsolicited marketing calls an invasion of our privacy.